Royal Porcelain Works[®]

The beautiful fine bone china created by Chamberlain & Co represents the very best of British craftsmanship. Everything that Chamberlain produce is made entirely by hand in Worcestershire, maintaining a centuries-old heritage of ceramic excellence while continuing to push at the boundaries of what is possible.

The creation of Chamberlain's prestige fine bone china is a highly skilled process that cannot be hurried. From the casting of each vase, comport or bowl to their painstaking decoration, using a rich palette of special ceramic colours and precious metals, every stage of creation requires the utmost technical skill and the finest artistry.

The dedication, time and artistic talent involved in production mean not just that our exquisite collections can only be made in very limited numbers, but that each piece created by Chamberlain & Co is unique. In an age of mass production, we are proud to continue to offer the finest craftsmanship for the discerning connoisseur.

Heritage Garden

King George III

Imperial Imari

Chamberlain Black

The new Chamberlain & Co collections were inspired by the exquisite ornamental wares of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. Reinterpreted for the modern world and perfectly suited to today's interiors, they retain a timeless elegance. Our designers immersed themselves in the history and heritage of Worcestershire ceramics, and the beautiful wares of the Chamberlain period in particular, before creating the sophisticated range of shapes that form the basis of our collections. Similarly inspired, our patterns share the same timeless qualities and breath taking decoration, carefully tailored to perfectly complement each piece, whether vase, bowl or comport.

The resulting collections offer extensive appeal; from the delicacy of the chinoiserie influenced Heritage Garden with its beautiful floral sprays, the rich splendour of the Imperial Imari and King George III designs, both tempered by the flawless delicacy of their hand-painted floral motifs, to the drama of the luxurious Chamberlain Black collection with its unrivalled contrast and exotic decoration. All painted by hand with traditional ceramic colours including deep cobalt in-glaze blue, vivid iron red and delicate rose pink; then exquisitely detailed with 23 carat gold.

Together they represent an unrivalled collection of prestige ceramic art, unmistakably carrying on the great tradition of fine Worcestershire bone china while bringing it firmly into the modern day. Any one of our magnificent handmade pieces will bring a sense of occasion to any setting.
